10 YEARS OF CREATING ARTISTS

Located in Lowell MA, Refuge Art School provides a sanctuary for student artists, offering a safe, equitable environment with collaborative arts instruction. During our 10 years in operation, we have served 750+ students and provided over 1,500 need-based financial aid packages, supporting over 90% of our students. Each year, we serve 65-85 students in grades 4-12, many of whom take multiple classes, participate in community events, and engage in public art projects. We maintain a low student-to-teacher ratio and offer workforce development opportunities for our students, helping them grow into professional artists, compassionate community members, and creative thinkers .
